

Date: 10/07/2004

Number: NEC0063

System	Software
DS1000/2000	03..

Title: DS1000/2000 Software Upgrade Guidelines

Use the following procedure when upgrading your version 03.. system software:

1. Download the latest versions of the System Administrator (PC Program) and Update Utility from <http://ws1.necii.com/ds2000>.
2. Following the installation instructions for these programs (also available on the web site), remove any prior installations and then reinstall both programs.
3. Use the System Administrator to back up your current database to a file on your PC.
This is required in DS2000 since upgrading the software version defaults the database.
This is recommended as a precaution in DS1000, even though the database is not defaulted after the upgrade.
4. Verify your saved database by opening the file using the System Administrator and confirming your data is in there.
5. Use the Update Utility to upgrade your system software. The system will automatically reset when the upgrade completes.
6. In DS2000, use the System Administrator to restore your saved database. Reset the system when the restore completes.